NETGEAR Offers Free Gift to Digital Entertainer Elite Customers

Claim your free iTunes voucher, iPod Shuffle or Logitech Dock when you purchase NETGEAR's award-winning EVA9150

Leading networking and multimedia vendor, NETGEAR, is offering a promotion entitling customers to either a £50 iTunes voucher, 4GB iPod Shuffle or Logitech Pure-Fi Express Plus Dock when purchasing the Digital Entertainer Elite (EVA9150).

By incorporating the latest video, audio and wireless technologies, the EVA9150 is an ideal solution for serious media enthusiasts looking for an unparalleled living room multimedia experience. The powerful and flexible digital media player enables digital content, including videos, MP3s, digital photos and online content such as YouTube videos, to be streamed over a home network to a high-definition home entertainment system. The addition of a 500GB hard drive (easily upgradable), makes the EVA9150 the world's largest capacity home video jukebox on the market.

Mark Power, Managing Director, NETGEAR UK and Ireland, commented: "The amount of digital media content available to consumers is rapidly increasing, and NETGEAR recognises the demand to bring this content to HDTVs for the ultimate multimedia experience. The EVA9150 is the ideal solution for consumers wanting to enjoy the widest array of digital content available in the comfort of their living rooms. By providing our customers with either an iTunes voucher, iPod Shuffle or LogiTech Dock we hope to encourage the adoption of this digital lifestyle."

In a recent Computer Shopper review, the EVA9150 was awarded the coveted 'Ultimate' award logo. By the publication's own admission, this accolade is reserved for only the best products on the market. In the review, the EVA9150 was awarded the full five stars and praised for its 'excellent and easy to use interface'. The review's verdict highlighted that: 'With a large hard disk, dual-band Draft-N WiFi, an excellent interface and the most comprehensive format support we've ever seen, it earns our Ultimate award'. NETGEAR recognises that it is critical to have a high performance link between the digital content and HDTV for the ultimate multimedia experience. As a result, NETGEAR also offers a wide range of home networking solutions that complement the EVA9150, including the Powerline networking and ReadyNAS storage product families.

This promotion is effective immediately and will run until September 30th 2009. The claim form can be downloaded at <http://www.netgear.co.uk/freegiftseva9150.php>. For more information on where to buy NETGEAR products, please visit: http://www.netgear.co.uk/buy_overview.php
